TURKS STILL ON THE RUN

BULGARIANS PRESSING EVERY ADVANTAGE—TURKEY NOT READY FOR WAR.

London, Nov. 4.—The remarkable story of the battle of the Luleburgas, in which 40,000 Turks were killed or wounded by the victorious Bulgarians is continued this morning by Martin H. Donohoe, the correspondent of the Daily Chronicle, who, cabling from Constanza, says:

"Turkey is confronted with a wrecked army and the prospective ruin of her empire in Europe. Now that National calamity has overtaken her, the number of prophets who foresee her approaching dissolution is increasing daily. Abdullah Pasha was one of those who knew that the Turkish army was a colossus, with feet of clay but, brave soldier that he is, although his heart was heavy with sorrow at the certain knowledge that he was foredoomed to failure, he did not shrink his duty, as did his brother generals through whose notorious incompetence when holding high ministerial office the lamentable disorganization of today has resulted.

"Already the finger of odium is pointing at Abdullah Pasha. But three weeks ago, standing on the piazza of the War Office in Stamboul, watching the motley crowd that the Turkish instructors were endeavoring to lick into military shape, he made the significant remark to a brother officer:

"If this enlistment of untrained men continues we have no need of an enemy; we shall destroy ourselves."

"The beaten generalissimo is still giving ground before the victorious Bulgarians. There has been no respite for the harried remnant of the Turkish army. 'Onward, ever onward,' cry its pursuers. The Bulgarian cannon thunders, insatiable death takes its toll hourly of the battle-tattered wreck of what were once soldiers, but all of whose feeble energies are now devoted to fleeing for their very lives over the wide Thracian plain, up the steep and rocky slopes of Chorti to its wide plateau and down the other side and across the valley which leads toward Chataidja.

"The broken army is crawling. It can no longer run. Days and nights of awful suffering have reduced its gait to a mere totter. The track of the fleeing Turkish army is paved with dead and dying. On the way from Chorti, while it was still daylight, I came across the half devoured bodies of many horses which could not have succumbed more than two hours, and I shuddered to think of the fate of the men who had fallen dying by the wayside.

"Those beaten forces, whose physical strength permitted, reached Chorti late on Thursday night and bivouacked indiscriminately on the plateau commanding the railway station or in the sheltered valleys which follow it. The night was intensely cold, which added to the suffering of the already cruelly-trying fugitives. The small quantities of flour and barley found in the town did not serve to feed a tithe of the starving men, the bulk of whom passed the bitter night without food, drink or cover.

"By noon on Friday efforts had been made to obtain supplies of food from Constantinople, but before many train loads had come through the Bulgarian guns in the river, threatening the town.

"The enemy throughout the brief campaign has shown astonishing celerity in the pursuit. This advance guard never has been far from the rear of the retreating army." z z z

NORMAL NEWS.

ATHLETICS.

The Normal football team leaves Friday for a return game with Weleetka High school. The game with the Weleetkites here was the closest of the season, the final score being 21-20 in favor of the "Teachers." With only three more games before the final contest with Durant excitement is pushing the safety valve. Durant is playing a fast game and has an exceptionally fast aggregation. They are coming on a special car with a large crowd of rooters. The team here will need all the support and encouragement possible to defeat Durant on Thanksgiving day. The team wishes to express their thanks for the encouragement received from the citizens so far and hope to merit their assistance in other contests.

BASKET BALL.

The girls' basket ball team under the efficient coaching of Prof. E. C. Wilson is showing up fine. Most of last year's championship team are back and some new material. We hope to get the championship this year. Don't forget the opening game with Tishomingo High school Thanksgiving night. It will be the first victory.

TRACK.

The normal will boast of a track team this year. A dual meet will be arranged here, and with excellent material and the efficient coaching of Prof. L. O. Wilson we hope to capture the coveted rag.

THE FORUM.

East Central now boasts of one of the best debating societies in the state. The members are all representative students, are clean, wide-awake fellows. The boys are well read and in case of an absence are prepared to fill the vacancy. However, there has been only one "Piker" so far. Prof. J. Frank Lilly, the critic, is looking out for material for the normal debate and is well satisfied with our chances of securing two scalps in March. Indeed he will have trouble in selecting the debaters for all promise to make a good fight in the semi-finals. The citizens are invited to meet with us on Monday evenings at 7 o'clock.

Prof. Grady Matthews enrolled today and will make a good fight for the football team.

DeWitt's Experience.

Monday W. C. DeWitt of Ardmore, proprietor of one of the leading cigar factories of the Southwest, paid the News a short call and inserted an ad for his fine cigars known as "De Witt's Experience." These are bully good cigars and smokers of Ada cannot be better pleased than with this brand.

COUNTY PHYSICIANS HOLD MEETING

The Pontotoc County Medical Society, held its regular meeting yesterday afternoon. The meeting was a great success, papers were read and clinical cases discussed.

Most of the local physicians were present. Those attending out of town were Dr. J. L. Jeffers of Roff, Dr. G. A. Akers of Franks, Dr. F. Harrison of Stonewall, Dr. J. T. Mills of Sasakwa, Dr. S. M. Richey and Dr. LaRue of Francis.

The Society initiated Dr. Harrison, Dr. Richey and Dr. Mills, after which the members participated in a smoker. At the last regular meeting of this year which is Dec. 2nd, the society will hold a surgical clinic and give a banquet.

The members are very enthusiastic and take great interest in these meetings.

Requisites of Good Glass Sand.

Sand is the main constituent of glass, constituting from 52 to 65 per cent of the mass of the original mixture, or from 60 to 75 per cent of the finished product after melting has driven off carbon dioxide and other volatile materials. On the quality of the sand depend the transparency, brilliancy, and hardness of the glass. For the finest flint ware, such as that used for optical and cut glass "water whiteness," absolute transparency, great brilliancy, and uniform density are required, and only the purest sand can be employed, since slight impurities, especially small quantities of iron, tend to destroy these effects. For plate and window glass, which are common pale green, absolute purity is not so essential, but generally the sand should not carry more than 0.2 per cent of iron oxide. Green and amber glass for bottles, jars, and rough structural work can be made from sand relatively high in impurities. An excess of the chief impurity, iron, is usually avoided in the quarries by a careful selection of the whitest sand, although the whitest sand is not invariably the purest. Repeated washing tends to remove the iron. Magnetic separators also have been resorted to, especially when the iron is present in the form of magnetite. Clay materials are objectionable because they cloud the glass. Washing helps to remove them, since they occur usually in a very finely divided state. Magnesia, which is more apt to be introduced into glass materials through limestone than through sand, is troublesome because it renders the batch less fusible. In examining sand in order to ascertain its value for glass making, inspection with a magnifying glass is the best preliminary test. The following points should be observed: The sand should be nearly white and of medium fineness (passing a 20 to 50 mesh horizontal sieve); the grains should be uniform in size, even, and angular; less preferably they may be rounded. A simple chemical test consists in heating the sand in a dilute acid. Effervescence indicates the presence of lime; loss of color shows the presence of clay impurities. Iron in the most minute quantity may be detected by dissolving sand in hydrofluoric acid and adding potassium ferrocyanide, which produces a blue precipitate if iron is present. Complete quantitative analyses as well as a furnace test should be made as a final determination of the character of a prospective glass sand.—(From Advance Chapter, Mineral Resources of the United States for 1911.)

THE TABOO ON MODERATE DRINKING.

The use of alcohol is receiving some hard knocks these days. A prominent railway system, not content with the general rule heretofore in force on railways forbidding employees to drink while on duty, now forbids employees to indulge at all in drinking out of employment hours, or in any other conduct which will impair their health or make them less alert and less capable while on duty. The owner of one of the nation's pet—a prominent baseball team—announces that moderation in drinking is not sufficient; the players on his team must leave alcohol entirely alone and abandon cigars. The justification for such rules may be found not only in the difficulty of being moderate in indulgence, but also in the cumulative and after-effects of dissipation. The world is moving; the old fetish of "personal liberty" at whatever cost of danger to the public at large seems to be losing its power. The Journal of the American Medical Association thinks that the time may come when every man to whom the life and safety of others are entrusted may be expected or even required to be as abstemious as ball players and railway employees.

NATIONAL GRANGE WILL DISCUSS GOOD ROADS

Spokane, Wash., Nov. 5.—Good roads and the matter of interesting the government in them will be one of the big subjects brought before the annual convention of the National Grange, in Spokane November 13 to 23. Fred R. Lewis, secretary of the Washington State Grange, is prepared to introduce the subject, believing the federal government should at least assist in building inter-continental roads. Governors of four Pacific Northwestern states—Marion E. Hay of Washington, James H. Hawley of Idaho, Oswald West of Oregon and Edwin L. Morris of Montana—will attend the Grange convention and are slated to deliver addresses on the opening day. Senator Obidiah Gardner of Maine also is listed in the program as a speaker, and will respond to Governor Hay's address of welcome. On account of the large attendance expected—it is estimated 5,000—both the state armory and the Auditorium theatre have been chartered for the convention. Banquets, luncheons and sight-seeing trips to the surrounding agricultural districts will be given by the Spokane Chamber of Commerce.

Necessary to elect

Washington, D. C., Nov. 5.—The next Electoral College will consist of 531 members, which means that the candidate for president at today's election, if successful, must receive at least 266 electoral votes. Political observers are now asking what will happen if none of the three leading candidates for the presidency—President Taft, Colonel Roosevelt and Governor Wilson—receives the necessary majority of the electoral vote.

The law provides that the selection of a president under these conditions shall be thrown into the House of Representatives. The election of a president was thrown into the House in 1801, and the complication which then arose resulted in the Twelfth Amendment to the Constitution, which covers the contingency which many persons think may again arise as a result of today's election. It provides that the electoral colleges shall meet and ballot in their respective states; that they shall prepare lists showing how they have voted, which shall be transmitted to the Federal capitol and opened in a session of the two houses of Congress by the President of the Senate; that the votes shall then be counted; that the person having the greatest number of electoral votes, if it be a majority, shall be president, and that if there be no such person the voting shall take place in the House of Representatives and by States.

Then comes the interesting possibility that the House may not be able to elect. The states in the house are equally divided politically, although the present congress is Democratic by numbers. In twenty-two states the majority of the delegation is Republican and in an equal number of states the majority is Democratic. Then there are four states where the delegation is equally divided, and inasmuch as each state is entitled to one vote only, no vote could be cast in these four states. This situation would make it impossible for the House to elect unless there should be a combination between the Taft men and the Democrats, on the one hand, or the Roosevelt men and the Democrats, on the other.

If the House remained tied there would be no election. The Senate would choose a Vice President, and he would act as President. As the Senate stands there are 49 Republican Senators, 44 Democratic Senators, and three vacancies, one each in Colorado, Illinois and Idaho. The vacancies will probably be filled by State legislatures soon after the first of the year. If the Republicans managed to keep their majority the situation would be as interesting or more so than if the body were evenly divided. Under the Constitution the Senate chooses between the two candidates for Vice President receiving the highest number of votes in the Electoral College. On the surface of things the Republicans, having a majority, would elect the Republican Vice President nominee to succeed President Taft. But the Republican control is only nominal, for among the Republican senators are several who have declared for Roosevelt and Johnson, and would not, it is believed, vote for the regular Republican or Marshall unless compelled by a majority of the Senate, under a rule requiring that every senator present shall vote on every roll call, to declare for one or the other.

MRS. REUTER WILL BE PLACED ON TRIAL

Tulsa, Okla., Nov. 4.—Following the conviction and sentence of Guy D. Mackenzie and Joe Baker to life imprisonment in the state penitentiary at McAlester for their part in the conspiracy to kill Attorney Charles P. If smiling pays god dividends, the Democrats will have ample opportunity to cash in after today. It has been a long time between smiles, but they will have a fine opportunity to feel cheerful once more—at least every indication now points that way.

The Oklahoma states that Hubert L. Bolen of Oklahoma county may be the floor leader in the next house. What we are interested in, however, is the election of John Crawford as speaker.

"Farmers are in much better spirit," J. L. Barringer, of Ada, Okla., said. "Last year we were down and out of feed, and we had little to sell. ## ADEQUATE PREPARATION.

Most failures in life are probably due to the lack of preparation for facing the many problems that every man must meet in course of his existence. In their hurry to get into active life boys are rushing out poorly prepared, and later, when it is too late to repair the error, they find themselves laboring under a handicap that can not be shaken off. A block of marble in incompetent hands will only be marred and ruined, but a sculptor will make of it a beautiful statue which will bring him thousands of dollars. A man may live at the foot of a mountain of rich gold ore, but unless he knows how to extract it, it is worth no more to him than so much rock. Two men may be given a set of colors identical in every respect; one will only smear it over a canvas, while the other will so combine his paints with a skillful hand that he will produce a picture that is the admiration of the world. Without the trained brain and hand of the architect and artisan the rough stones of the quarry will continue only as unsightly blocks instead of becoming part of an imposing edifice. It may require years of heartbreaking toil to thoroughly prepare for real life, but the satisfaction in feeling that one is well prepared and can make good anywhere is in itself sufficient reward.

Bob Wortham Makes Bond.

McAlester, Ok., Nov. 4.—Bob Wortham, the third man arrested in connection with the robbery of the Katy near Canadian last Monday night, was brought here today from Muskogee by Jack Davis, brother of Joe Davis, one of the two men arrested, and arraigned before the United States Commissioner on a charge of obstructing the passage of the mails. He entered a plea of not guilty and was held in bail of $2,000 for a preliminary hearing Nov. 6. He made bond and was released. The officers are still hunting for the fourth man they claim was engaged in the robbery.

AIDED IN DEATH OF WOMAN

Man Surrenders to Police, Declaring That His Conscience Has Been Troubling Him.

New York.—Evan Evanson of 1425 Bath avenue, Bath Beach, an elderly man of impressive appearance, called at police headquarters in Manhattan and asked to see the person in charge, if there were any one on duty so late at night and it was not too much trouble.

Lieut. James Dunn, who lately has grown a little sensitive to criticism of the difficulties which persons who desire to surrender for crime or give testimony against criminals are said to have experienced, sent out word that Mr. Evanson was to come right in.

"Fifteen years ago," said Mr. Evanson, "I was responsible for the death of a woman, Margaret Lens, in Brooklyn. My conscience troubles me in my old age and I wish to surrender."

The telephone helped to find two detectives in Brooklyn who were willing to come over and take charge of him, and Mr. Evanson was locked up in the Adams street station over night.

When he was arraigned before Magistrate Dodd, Assistant District Attorney Lee, who had been looking up the death of Margaret Lens, told the magistrate that the health department books showed that Margaret Lens died July 30, 1898, of Bright's disease and that Coroner Delapha had so certified.

"I know that," said Evanson. "I am not exactly a murderer. But I want to tell the grand jury how I am responsible."

Magistrate Dodd committed Mr. Evanson to the Kings county hospital for observation for five days.

FORTUNE FOR ILLEGAL SON

Father Advertises for Kin, Now Fifty-two Years Old, Whom He Plans to Give $60,000.

Philadelphia, Pa.—The following advertisement in the newspapers tells a remarkable tale of an old wrong, with the attempt of the father to right himself after fifty years of silence:

"In the spring of 1860, a few miles from Lancaster, a boy child was born to a German girl named Caroline, who a short time after died, but the child lived. If any one can give any information about this kindly write to C. J. Nyholm, 478 North Third street, Philadelphia."

Mr. Nyholm is an insurance broker and at his home he told the story of an aged and grief-stricken old man who in his declining years desires to give the child of whom he is the father $60,000. He has not seen the child since 1888, when it is thought that the young man went to Lancaster, being somewhere in the farming section at that time. The father intended to marry the mother of his offspring, but went to the Civil war, and when he was mustered out he found she had died during his absence.

PIN IN LIVER 20 YEARS; DIES

Operation Apparently Successful, But Brooklyn Girl's Strength Fails—First Case of Kind.

New York.—Miss Kathryn Roche, Brooklyn, died in the Prospect Heights hospital, and a surgical examination into the cause of her mysterious illness revealed the fact that for 20 years a small pin had been in her liver.

No similar case has ever come to the knowledge of New York surgeons. Twenty years ago Miss Roche was taken to Seney hospital. It was then thought that she was suffering from an ordinary stomach malady and the doctors sent her home. A recent operation was apparently successful, but the vitality of the patient was not sufficient to carry her through the reactionary period.

MOVING HABIT DIVORCE PLEA

Minneapolis Man Says His Wife Has Changed About Twenty-nine Times.

Minneapolis, Minn.—If a man is compelled by his wife to move twenty-nine times in the seventeen years of his married life, is it ground for a divorce?

W. P. Crawley of this city believes it is, and has asked that the court grant him freedom. In his petition he declares that the "moving habit" formed by his wife has become unbearable; that she "beat him up" with a broom, and that he gave up his earnings to his wife, who spent them, forcing him to borrow from his brother to provide for his needs.

SUES FOR PARENT'S RICHES

Daughter's Novel Action Revives International Romance at Baltimore.

Baltimore, Md.—Alice Wilkins von Buckwaldt, a Baltimore girl, wife of Captain von Buckwaldt of the German army, has begun suit here to get possession of the estate left her by her father, who died many years ago, amounting to $250,000. Alice was the youngest child and her mother took her to Germany soon after her father's death. When twenty-one Alice attempted to get her property, but was refused; the executor claiming the will made him trustee for a longer period. The court of appeals ordered the property turned over to the heiress, but before this was done a new complication arose.

Miss Wilkins fell in love with a handsome captain in the German army, but her mother refused to give her consent to the match, fearing that the wooer was after her fortune. In vain did the girl plead that she knew better, but the mother was obdurate. Finally she said that she would give her consent if the daughter would make a deed of trust of the property in Baltimore so that the captain would not be able to get hold of it. The daughter made the deed of trust and her marriage followed.

The captain proved a good husband and he won his mother-in-law, who subsequently married a general, and both mother and daughter moved in the army set at the German capital. The trustee, when Mrs. von Buckwaldt sought to have the deed revoked, refused and her mother is now aiding her daughter's suit to have it set aside.

"BANDITS" STEAL GIRL'S COIN

Two Frocked Robbers in Court Say "We Didn't, Didn't, Didn't" While Accuser Says "You Did."

New York.—A small, indignant girl stood up in children's court and pointed a stubby and stained forefinger at two other little girls.

"Sure!" she said. "Them is they!" The complaining witness was eight-year-old Caroline Gross. She accused as being bold, bad highwaymen thirteen-year-old Rebecca Wax and ten-year-old Kate Rappaport. The amount of loot, asserted the complaining witness was thirty cents.

"Aw! We never did!" chorused the accused.

"You did, too!" declared Miss Gross. According to the accuser, she had been going to the ice cream store, and in her hand was her purse with thirty cents in it. As she was coming home, she said, and reached the front of 226 East One Hundred and Seventh street, her home, the frocked highwaymen grabbed her and took the money.

"Oh, we didn't, didn't, didn't, didn't," shouted the accused.

"You did, did, did, did, did!" insisted the complainant. "If you didn't, what made you run?"

"Well," said the accused, "we ran because, that's why."

CALLS SON BY TELEPATHY

Mother's Illness Draws Him From Mountain Camp to Pasadena Hospital.

Los Angeles.—Telepathic messages called Orin Sutliff from a mountain camp to his sick mother's bedside in a Pasadena hospital, according to a statement he made. He said mysterious manifestations turned his thoughts to home and caused him to worry about his father and mother and experience the sensation of groping in the dark for an object which he instinctively knew was there.

He told a companion and when the feeling returned, shouted: "I have it! Mother is sick. I am going home." When he reached his home in Pasadena his father told him his mother was in the hospital. Comparison of dates showed the first feeling of uneasiness came over him the day his mother became ill.

READY FOR BURIAL; LIVES

Kansas Struck by Lightning Just Misses Being Placed in Grave—Loses Voice from Shock.

Erle, Kan.—Pronounced dead by a physician and made ready for burial, Charles Singer, living at Urbana, this county, revived after twenty-four hours. Singer had been struck by lightning. When found he was apparently dead. The next day Singer showed signs of reviving and by noon was breathing normally. He was unable to talk, however, because of the nervous shock. It is feared he will be blind as a result of paralysis of the optic nerve.

Old Lady Swims Five Miles.

New York.—Gray-haired, sixty-five years old, mother of ten children, Mrs. Elizabeth Berlo, of Edgewater, N. J., swam along and across the Hudson from Edgewater to the Washington club, at the foot of 152d street. When she and her eighteen-year-old daughter Kitty, who accompanied her, had completed their four-mile-and-a-half swim in 45 minutes, she was forcibly restrained from trying to make the return trip as she had come.

Freak Kitten Is Killed.

Dennison, Ohio.—A freak kitten belonging to James Edle of Stillwater was killed by a vicious tomcat. The kitten had three heads, twelve legs and three tails. Two of the heads were gray and one black; eight of the legs were gray and four black. The body was a mixture of gray and black.

POLICE TEST AUTO HORNS

Los Angeles Traffic Squad Follow Unique Plan to Learn Value of Bulb Horn as Means of Warning.

Los Angeles, Cal.—The traffic police here have just completed an official test of the bulb horn as an automobile warning signal.

So far as is known this is the first test of the kind ever made. Members of the traffic squad went up and down various streets where the parking of automobiles is permitted and blew the bulb horns attached to some four hundred cars. Of this number only two gave what might be termed an adequate warning—that is, one that could be heard more than fifty feet away. The others emitted so slight a sound that it could barely be heard at all. In every case it was impossible to obtain anything but a wheeze when the bulb was grasped quickly, thus demonstrating that as an emergency signal the bulb horn is absolutely useless.

The test was conducted secretly by the police for the purpose of gaining first-hand information on the automobile warning signal question now a leading issue here and before the City Council for solution. Its results will in all probability have an important influence upon the enactment of the ordinance recently introduced requiring the use of signals of greater power and dependability.

Special interest is lent to the test by the fact that the record of accidents resulting from the failure to hear automobile horns shows that 77 per cent of these occurred at crossings where the noise of traffic is such that an efficient signal is absolutely necessary.

Irregular bowel movements lead to chronic constipation and a constipated habit fills the system with impurities. HERBINE is a great bowel regulator. It purifies the system, vitalizes the blood and puts the digestive organs in fine vigorous condition. Price 50c. Sold by Ramsey Drug Company.

HEAVY VOTE BEING POLLED

At 3 O'clock Total Vote of City was 575—Rain May Affect Rural Vote.

At 3 o'clock this afternoon a total of 575 votes had been cast in the city divided as follows: First Ward, 189; Second, 121, Third, 123; Fourth, 151. As the polls do not close until 7 o'clock the indications are that the entire vote will not fall far short of 900 votes and it is possible that it will go above that, for nearly 1,100 voters are registered.

The day has been devoid of interest for the vote here is too one sided to create any special interest. Opinions differ regarding the vote in the rural precincts, but the rain may possibly increase the vote. During the morning it was rather heavy but in view of the fact that it stopped about noon, all had the opportunity of going to the polls and probably did so. About 1 o'clock it was reported that 36 votes had been cast at Capitol Hill which is only 11 short of the total vote cast at the primary.

CLUB WOMEN FIGHT OVER CLUB NAMES

Spokane, Wash., Nov. 5.—War over a mountain is being waged between two women's clubs of Spokane, and has occasioned quite a fine question of prior rights of possession. The clubs are contesting for the right to the name of Mount Spokane, the highest peak in eastern Washington. When the mountain was called Mount Carleton, a number of women organized as the Mount Carleton club. But last August the mountain's name was changed to Mount Spokane. A second set of women promptly organized the Mount Spokane club. Later the Mount Carleton club changed its name to correspond with the new title of the favorite mountain, and each club vociferously declares prior right to the name. The question may be brought before the court for decision.

NOTICE TO TAX PAYERS.

Your 1912 tax was due November 1st, 1912.

If you want to pay your tax in halves without any penalty you will have to pay your first half before the first day of December, 1912, or you will have to pay penalty on the first half from Dec. 2, 1912, until paid.

If the first half is not paid before January 1st, 1913, all your tax becomes delinquent and will all have to be paid at one time with a penalty of 18 per cent per annum from January 1st, 1913, until paid. If one-half is paid before January 1st, 1913, you will have until June 15th, 1913, to pay the last half, without penalty. The law requires each and every taxpayer to furnish me with a list of his property when he comes to pay his tax or when he writes to find out what they are, for example; if it is personal property (which means all property other than real estate) give name of town or municipal township you were assessed in. For example: John Smith, personal tax in town of Stonewall, or Fitzhugh township or whatever town or township it might be in.

If you own town lots give me your Lot No., Block No. and name of town it is in or if in some one's additions, of a town, give name of Addition and town. Example: Lot 1 in Block 2 in Frisco Addition to the town of Francis, Oklahoma.

If you own farm land give me the calls of your land, Sec. No. Township and Range. Example: SW 1 SW 4 of Sec. 16, Twp. 2 North, Range 5 East, Fitzhugh Township.

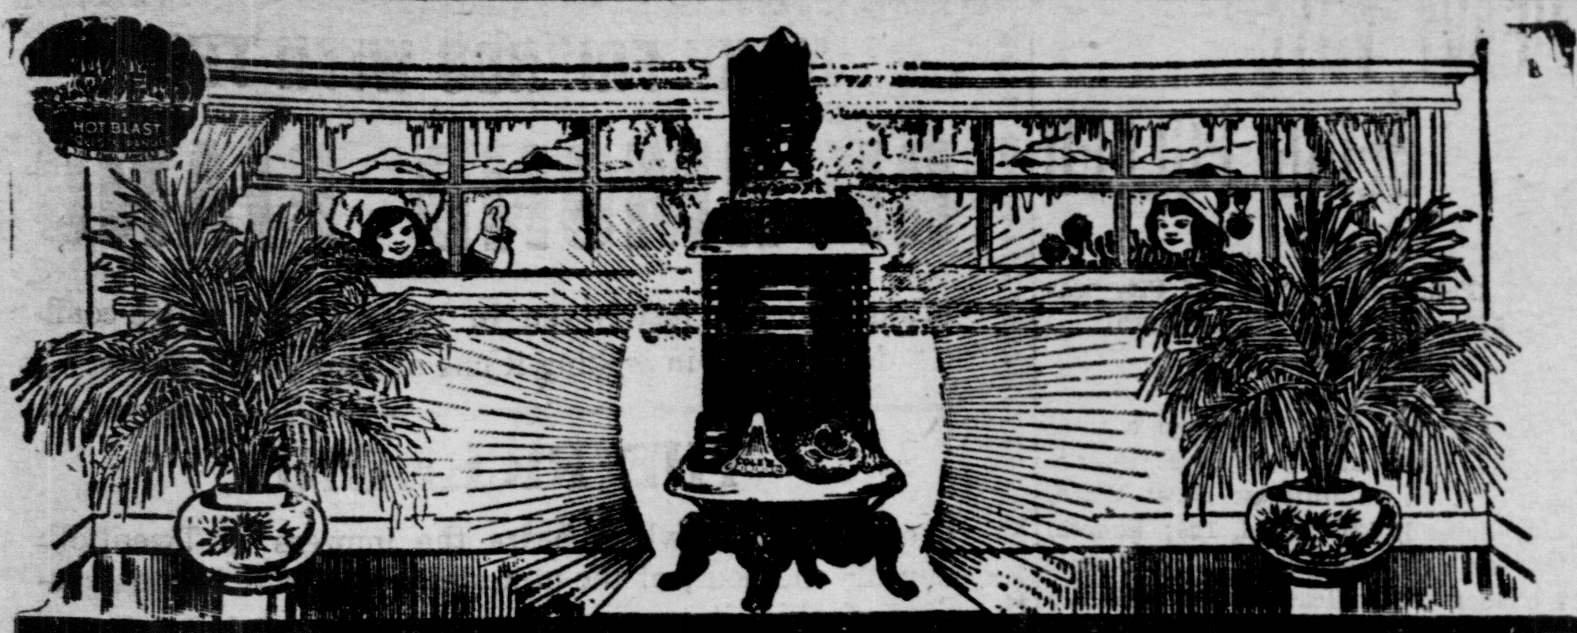

Your 1911 tax receipt will be a good list but check it over and see that all your property is shown on it.

Trusting that each and every taxpayer will be kind enough to do as required, I am yours for the very best service I can render you,

RIT ERWIN,
County Treasurer.

P. S.—If you don't furnish list as required by law, when you write about your tax your letter won't be answered for I will not know what property you own, and if you don't have a list of your property when you come to pay your tax, the man who has his list will be waited on first and I will wait on you when there is no one waiting. 8tw—26td

CONSCIENCE STRICKEN MAN CONFESSES TO MANY CRIMES

Dallas, Tex., Nov. 5.—The police today made public a confession given them by G. H. Rose, asserting that 24 years ago at Covington, Ky., he killed W. H. Morris. He said he went under the name of N. W. Ingersoll when he killed Morris. Rose also said that 24 years ago at Independent, Ky., he stole $110 from Austain Stephens. Rose has resided in Dallas for 23 years and is 46 years old. He married a Dallas woman. The couple have no children.

Rose has not given any details of the alleged killing. He said that while walking past a church here yesterday the sound of singing so affected him that he went inside, listened to the sermon, decided to confess and went to the city jail, where he surrendered last evening.

His confession asserts that about a year and a half ago he burned his home here, obtaining thereby $1,030 insurance.

Grouch's Point of View. "A holiday now and then is very desirable," said the genial citizen. "It gives us all a chance to rest." "I can't see it that way," replied Mr. Grouch. "It compels me to work that much harder to provide the clothes demanded for the special display."

Why Salves Can't Cure Eczema

Since the old-fashioned theory of curing eczema through the blood has been given up by scientists, many different salves have been tried for skin diseases. But it has been found that these salves only close the pores and cannot penetrate to the inner skin below the epidermis where the eczema germs are lodged. This—the quality of penetrating—probably explains the tremendous success of the well known liquid eczema remedy, oil of wintergreen, thymol, eucalyptus, etc., as compounded in D.D.D. Prescription. We have sold other remedies for skin

The Wedding Ring
There are many people who probably do not know that the wedding ring has not always been a plain circle of gold. In bygone days it was set with rich jewels and worn on the first finger of the right hand. There is a popular superstition about the wearing of the wedding ring on the third finger, and that is that there is a vein that runs direct from that finger to the heart. But that is by no means the real reason. It is not one of superstition but one of religion. The minister who performs the service used to put the ring first on the thumb saying: "In the name of the Father;" went on the first finger he said: "And of the Son;" and on the second: "And of the Holy Ghost." Then the amen was reached with the third finger and the ring was put on forever.

Never Too Late to Die

It's never too late to commit suicide. Mr. Janos Meryessl jumped off the suspension bridge at Budapest because at the age of eighty-four he thought he should soon be unable to support his father, who was one hundred and ten years old. Mr. Meryessl was pulled from the Danube, more dangerous to him than flowing Hunyadi Janos, and a public subscription was organized for the three. But in 1892 a Russian, one Mr. Bulan, killed himself at the age of one hundred and six. He left a letter bewailing the stupidity of modern days. The young Roman gentleman of classic times who killed himself because he was tired of doing the same thing did not wait till he was over one hundred to confirm his suspicions, says a Boston Herald writer.

Fell From Performer's Back

While Karl Richards, aged eighteen years, was clinging to the back of Signor Cameron, a professional wire performer, during a daring glide across Saratoga lake, recently, the youth lost his hold and plunged 125 feet into the lake. The water, fortunately, was deep where Richards fell. He was made unconscious but boats were dispatched to the scene and the youth was rescued from drowning. Cameron has been making exhibitions of crossing the lake and ravine on a wire, hanging to a pulley by his teeth. Richards volunteered to cross with him on his back. The thrilling mishap was witnessed by thousands of persons, some of the women fainting.

The Summer Camp

Colonel Gifford Hurry, commissary of the National Guard of New York, was condemning an officer who, on an annual encampment, had fussed too much over his men. "A famous editor," he said, "watched this officer one night during the last encampment, as he showed the boys how to fold their clothes, how to spread their bedding, how to wrap themselves in their blankets, how to drape their mosquito netting and so forth; and finally, when the officer took leave, the editor called after him: 'Hey, you've forgotten something.' 'What have I forgotten?' 'You haven't heard 'em say their prayers and kissed 'em all good-night.'"

Jealousy Ended in Murder

A shocking crime was committed at Bourne End, England, the other day. Dora Hussey, a good-looking girl, about seventeen years of age, employed in a newspaper shop was proceeding from her brother-in-law's house at the close of the day, when she was met by a man to whom it is stated she had been engaged, but with whom some difference had arisen. After a few words, the man is alleged to have fatally cut the girl's throat with a razor, the head being nearly severed from the body. The assailant then turned the weapon upon his own throat.

Horse in Serious Trouble

An exciting incident occurred at Tweed Dock, Berwick, Scotland, the other day. A horse yoked to a cart was being backed towards the dock side in order to take a load from a ship lying alongside. The animal went a step too far, with the result that the horse and cart fell into the ship. Fortunately the hold was not large enough to admit the cart, but considerable difficulty was experienced in getting the horse ashore. Ropes were tied around the animal's feet, and it was drawn up to the dock side.

New Life-Saving Jacket

A public test was recently carried out in the Thames, at London, England, of a new life-saving jacket. During the demonstration this apparatus was used by a woman and three men. The garment consists of a loose sack, about the length of an ordinary lounge jacket, having a ribbing fitted with a substance of greater buoyancy than cork. It is so constructed that the heads of the users are completely out of water, thus permitting them to take food while in the water.

Some Task to Count Money

The task of counting the millions of coins collected for the London hospitals by the ten thousand lady flower-sellers on Alexandra day occupied a staff of 400 men. The collecting boxes filled three large rooms.

Record of Hard Drinkers

Every German town will hereafter keep a record of hard drinkers, and doctors will have to report all persons who are addicted to habitual intoxication.

Dust in Postoffices

The result of the analysis by Swiss government experts at Berne of samples of what is known as "post office dust," has just been made known. It was feared that the great quantity of this peculiar "post office dust" might be injurious to the postmen and others obliged to inhale it frequently. The postal authorities accordingly collected samples of dust from eight of the principal Swiss post offices. They also collected mail bags from Switzerland, France and Germany. All these were examined with extreme care, and experiments were made upon 70 guinea pigs with the microbes found, with a view to seeing whether any of the animals would die of tuberculosis or other diseases. None of them did. After the prolonged investigations, although a great many different kinds of germs were found, none of them proved to be noxious.

Early Submarine

The submarine was known in England as far back as the early years of the seventeenth century, when a submarine was navigated from Westminster to Greenwich by Cornelius Drebel, of Alkmaar, in Holland. Drebel, who enjoyed the patronage of James I, was given an apartment in Eltham palace. The king expressed his intention of accompanying Drebel in one of his submarine voyages, but was dissuaded by his courtiers, who alleged that Drebel was in league with old Nick. Drebel's boat was so constructed that, according to a contemporary writer, "a person could see under water the surface of the water, and without candlelight, as much as he needed to read in the Bible or any other book."

English Child an Author

Mr. Hugh Allan of the London publishing firm of George Allen & Co., has a remarkable little daughter, for whom her father's firm is about to publish an extraordinary book. It is called "A Child's Visions," and is a series of pen and ink drawings. Daphne Allen is a tall, fair schoolgirl, just thirteen. She began drawing when she was only three, and as a child her artistic expression took quaint forms at times. For example, she drew a picture of the Crucifixion—with a steamboat in the background; and illustrations of her visit to Heaven, in a dream, gave an introduction of Father Christmas, with his pack of presents, as the ultimate incident. The subjects chosen for the book are all religious.

Improvement in Scotch City

A complete clearance has been made of the old bay area in Port Glasgow, Scotland, and in place of ancient buildings mostly huddled together without intervening air space, there now stand modern tenements lining wide streets. All the houses are suitable for the working classes, and are in one, two, three, and four apartments. The carrying out of the scheme was rendered practicable through the generosity of the late Mr. James Lithgow, who gifted to the town £10,000. The total cost of the building scheme is about £100,000, and it has taken three years to complete.

Nothing in It

Richard Harding Davis, a few days before his marriage, was talking to an editor about the decay of the short story. "The short story has been degraded and commercialized and cheapened," he said, "till there's no money in it any more—till it stands on a par with American music. A famous American musician was a witness in a case the other day. 'What's your occupation?' said the judge. 'Composer, sir,' the musician answered. 'No joking here, young man,' the judge growled, 'I want to know how you make your living.'"

Keeping Brass Looking Well

The following is given as a means of keeping brass from tarnishing: "Place half an ounce of shellac in half a pint of methylated alcohol, cork tightly. Leave bottle till next day, when the shellac will have been dissolved. Then pour off the clear liquid for use. With it paint the brass, using a camel's hair brush. Best results are obtained if the brass is heated before applying the solution of shellac. The varnish will not be noticed on the brass and the coating thus applied will prevent tarnishing."

Special Juries for Rhodesia

As the result of the investigations of the Select Committee, in Salisbury, Rhodesia, a new Juries Ordinance has been framed, providing for the trial of certain criminal cases, involving Europeans and natives, before a judge and special jury numbering five, of whom not less than four shall concur in the verdict. The jury will be selected from a special list designated by the administrator and approved by the legislative council.

Chautauqua Office

The Chautauqua institution put a new emphasis on religious activities this year, and to further this purpose has created a new office, that of director of religious work. The Rev. Dr. Shailer Mathews, head of the divinity school of the University of Chicago, is to occupy the post.

Looked Like a Mermaid

"There was a mermaid rumor at our hotel." "Anything to it?" "No; it was only a girl sitting on the beach in an extreme hobble gown."

ALWAYS CONQUERS RHEUMATISM

Thousands of persons have been rescued from the tortures of Rheumatism and restored to perfect health by the use of S. S. S. So uniform are the good results from its use that we do not hesitate to say S. S. S. always conquers Rheumatism if given a fair trial. You can never cure this deep-seated disease with external treatment, such as liniments, plasters, blisters, etc. These may furnish temporary relief but they do not reach the blood where the real cause is located. Rheumatism is rooted and grounded in the blood and must be driven from its stronghold there before permanent relief can be had. S. S. S. conquers Rheumatism by driving from the circulation the excess accumulation of uric acid which is responsible for the disease. S. S. S. strengthens and invigorates the blood so that instead of a weak, sour fluid, causing pain and agony throughout the system, it becomes a nourishing stream furnishing health to every portion of the body and relieving every symptom of Rheumatism. If you do not conquer Rheumatism it will conquer you. S. S. S. is the one remedy you can depend upon for good effects. Book on Rheumatism and medical advice free. ### Not Really Naval Stores

The term of turpentine, tar, pitch and rosin as naval stores is a misnomer. It originated many years ago, when tar and pitch first were used to coat the bottoms of vessels to make them watertight and to cover the rigging of ships to preserve it from the action of the weather. All ships carried always a supply of tar among their stores, and hence the original of the term "naval stores." It was used only by ship builders and ship owners and others who had to do directly with shipping, and was a nautical term only. Then, when the products of the gum of the long-leaf pine came into general commercial importance, the term was accepted as a fitting one for all articles of commerce manufactured from that substance, and is maintained to this day, although the uses that created it have little to do with the interests of the trade.

Advocates Leaves of Soap

A chemical friend of the Scientific American suggests that a campaign be started against the common cake of soap. About 50 years ago there was sold a form of soap for travelers, consisting of a booklet, about two inches by four inches, in which small leaves of soap paper saturated with soap were bound. Each leaf contained enough soap for one washing of the hands. It is suggested that one might profitably dispense, through a penny-in-the-slot machine, a paper towel in which is folded a sheet of soap paper, for convenient use in public lavatories.

Classified Advertising Divides This Paper's Readers Into Four Different Groups!

One group of readers will read all of the Situations Wanted Ads—because every person in that group is looking for a worker!

A second group of readers will read all of the Furnished Rooms To Let Ads—because every person in the group is looking for a furnished room.

A third group will read all of the Real Estate Ads—because every person in the group is a prospective buyer of real estate.

A fourth group will read all of the Business Opportunity Ads—because this group consists of people who MAKE THEIR MONEY WORK FOR THEM—and who are ALWAYS looking for GOOD JOBS FOR DOLLARS!

Thus every classification draws to itself a group of readers influenced by self-interests to everyone of whom that classification of ads means PERSONAL OPPORTUNITIES.

Your classified ad, therefore, has an audience awaiting it—an audience of alert people, anxious to consider your offer or your want, and to do business with you if your proposition is plausible.
